

WEINBERGER FINE ART & BRADY LEGLER

Working Together Again After 10 Years!

Since 2010, Weinberger Fine Art has been dedicated to showcasing high standard contemporary artwork from emerging, mid-career, and established international artists. This is why we are thrilled to announce our reunion in partnership with Kansas City's own Brady Legler.

Ten years ago, Kim Weinberger debuted her first gallery opening by showcasing Brady's work before he moved to New York to attend Parsons The New School of Design. In the last decade, he has built a successful career as an artist and jewelry designer both in Kansas City and New York City, where he's been living for the last 10 years. His paintings have sold worldwide.

We are thrilled to reunite by showcasing this dynamic and vibrant work. Call to schedule a viewing of Brady's work.
